FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE · MENDOZA, OCTOBER 25, 2026

MENDOZA, Argentina, October 25, 2026 — Circli, an Argentine events and communities platform based in Mendoza, has been a member of Polo TIC Mendoza since July 2026. Polo TIC Mendoza is a mixed organization that brings together the business, academic and public sectors working in information and communication technologies, and works so that the province's tech ecosystem grows, connects and attracts talent. It is based at the Parque TIC, in Godoy Cruz.

"We joined Polo TIC Mendoza because Circli was born to help the right people meet, and that is exactly what Polo TIC does for Mendoza's tech ecosystem," Circli said.

What we did with Polo TIC

In August, Polo TIC Mendoza hosted and sponsored the hackathon organized by the CuyoConnect software community, which ran on Circli: registration, forming teams by role, project submissions and judging from the phone. It was the first of the two hackathons Circli supported this year with CuyoConnect.

In October, Polo TIC Mendoza featured on its website the Mendoza companies that were finalists at the 2026 Sadosky Awards, given by CESSI, among them Circli, which competed for Startup of the Year in the Industry category.

As a member, Circli takes part in the meetings Polo TIC organizes for its members, such as the September one on financing and digital transformation. Polo TIC has also opened contacts with organizers and companies, workspace at the Parque TIC for meetings, and visibility on its channels.

"For a young company, being part of Polo TIC Mendoza means having the whole ecosystem close by: other tech companies, universities and the public sector. We want to give that back with what we do best: making sure people get to know each other at every gathering," the company added.

The 2026 Polo TIC Mendoza Awards

This year Polo TIC Mendoza is holding its 2026 Polo TIC Awards, which recognize those driving the province's digital transformation in four categories: public-sector innovation, the private company with the greatest impact on the tech ecosystem, innovation in academia and, for the first time, young breakthrough in technological innovation. A jury picks three finalists per category, and voting by members and the public runs from October 31 to November 8. The ceremony will take place on November 12 at Bodega Chandon.
